The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington, D. C.

RUSSIA AND ALLIES

SAN FRANCISCO. — To the average outsider, the most difficult thing to understand about this conference is the attitude of the Russians. Poor press relations, plus a few inept moves have melted down a large mountain of goodwill built up by the valor of the Red army. In a few short days they have destroyed much of the favorable sentiment in Latin America, and through no fault of ours, won us more friends below the Rio Grande than we ever had before.

One of the things Molotov did in San Francisco was to invite two prominent Latin - American delegates to dinner at the Russian consulate, along with a few carefully selected Europeans. Latin guests were Mexico's tall, handsome Foreign Minister Padilla, and Chile's aristocratic Foreign Minister Joaquin Fernandez Y Fernandez, who is rapidly assuming a new leadership in Latin America.

Molotov drank a toast to Chile and her new establishment of diplomatic relations with Russia.

"There are so many Chileans who want to become Ambassador to Moscow," joked Foreign Minister Fernandez in return, "that it is one of my greatest problems." Mexico's Padilla, apparently on excellent terms with Molotov, said: "All Latin America would be pleased if our sister republic, Argentina, was admitted to the conference."

Molotov, in mellow mood, seemed to register no objection.

Mood Changes.

But a day later the mood was different. Padilla arose in secret session to propose Secretary Stettinius as permanent chairman of the conference. Molotov promptly objected. He pointed out that four countries had invited the other nations to attend this conference and that the representatives of all four host countries should rotate as chairman.

Foreign Minister Padilla then delivered a recitation of previous precedents where the nation which served as host also acted as chairman. When he had finished, Molotov, who had already pointed out that four nations were hosts, got up and remarked:

"I am glad to be instructed in diplomatic procedure by the delegate of Mexico, but apparently he prepared his little speech before he heard my view."

Padilla, who had not read his speech, was taken aback. He mumbled something about always being prepared when he attended a conference and sat down. After a long, hot debate, Molotov won his point. But the manner in which he jumped on the Mexican lost him friends. A lot of Latins, jealous of Padilla's brilliant oratory, previously had been opposed to him. But Molotov veered them in the opposite direction.

Next day, in secret session, Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, a nation cooperating with Russia, pointed to the vacant chair of Poland and moved that the Lublin government be admitted. Foreign Minister Subasich of Yugoslavia, also close to Russia, seconded the motion. Whereupon, Anthony Eden white-faced and prim, emphatically opposed. There followed more hot debate.

Finally, to break the deadlock, Foreign Minister Spaak of Belgium proposed a compromise resolution expressing sympathy with Poland and hoping that she could be admitted soon. Genial, rotund Ambassador Caceres of Honduras, a great friend of the U.S.A., rose to second Belgium.

Whereupon Molotov cracked back: "Notwithstanding the support of the Republic of Honduras, the Soviet Union stands by its position."

Delegates Startled.

A note of biting sarcasm rang through Molotov's voice which startled the delegates. It sounded as if the powerful Soviet Union, representing the greatest land-mass in the world, was trying to put the tiniest republic in Latin America in its place. Again, Russia lost more friends. And later when the vote was taken on seating Lublin Poland, she lost that also.

These are some of the things about the Russians that take a lot of understanding. On the other hand, when Molotov, after winning his point on rotating the chairmanship, finally sat in Stettinius' place, he did an excellent job. He got off a little gag about being glad the conference would now have an opportunity to hear Russian, and proceeded to handle the session in most expert manner.

CAPITOL CHAFF

¶ The post office department plans to start a new drive to stop the public from shipping bottled liquor to servicemen overseas. . . . Shipment of liquor overseas is illegal, and when the post office catches it, the liquor is sent to veterans' hospitals. ¶ Postal authorities are also alarmed over the big increase in the number of soldiers' allotment checks being stolen from mail boxes. . . . One postal inspector in New York arrested 18 people in a single day for stealing checks.

RED CROSS MAKES 1250 ARTICLES SINCE JANUARY 1

The Campbell branch of the American Red Cross is actively working in production. Since the first of this year 1250 articles have been completed and turned in to headquarters. Of this number 325 were baby articles, 86 hospital garments, 67 men's sweaters and socks, 44 wheel chair lap covers, 604 service bags and 128 wash cloths.

Much credit is due to a number of women who work on the scheduled sewing days and who also take work home. One has worked as much as 58 hours in a week, which is comparable to a defense plant worker working seven days. The Red Cross worker receives no pay other than the satisfaction of doing her bit for the men and women in service.

Several local organizations have made creditable contributions in terms of hours of sewing.

A bigger call has been made by the government very recently for various articles, so Mrs. Archie Keesling, chairman of the Campbell branch, is urging that as many as possible give a part of their time to this worthy cause.

The regular sewing days are Wednesday in IOOF hall and Friday upstairs in the Curry building. There is a great need for more machine stitchers. There is a supply of yarn on hand now for those who are able to knit.

Blood donors are urgently needed, according to Mrs. Parr, local chairman for the Blood Bank. Anyone wishing to give blood should get in touch with her by telephoning Campbell 3420. Transportation is furnished to and from San Jose.

Future Farmer Prexies Serving War 100 Percent

San Luis Obispo — Every one of the 16 state presidents of the Future Farmers of America, since its organization in 1928, has either directly served in the war or taken part in needed war production, figures compiled by the FFA in California revealed this week.

Twelve of the 16 presidents are now in the armed forces. One died in an army training camp in 1942. The remaining three operate their own farms. One is a leading dairy producer and distributor in northern California; another is a member of the Napa County Board of Supervisors; and the third is the current president, a boy just out of high school. He is caring for his own herd of nearly 50 dairy cows.

Five of the 12 FFA past presidents now in the armed services were operating major farm programs at the time of their induction. Two were in allied agricultural fields, one was working in war industry, and the four others were just out of high school or in college.

One of these servicemen is a Marine sergeant, a veteran of three Pacific invasions, another a tail-gunner who has made 35 flights over Germany. The majority of the 50,000 membership since 1928 are now serving the war.

Infantry Units Tour Nation

Three members of a force of 24 Infantry teams which will be sent on tour by the Army Ground Forces on behalf of the Mighty Seventh War Loan drive. The teams, appearing in 600 cities, will present the colorful and exciting show "Here's Your Infantry." The show will serve to better acquaint the public with the life being led by our soldiers and will provide a graphic portrayal of the terrific cost of war and why it must be paid for in War Bonds. U. S. Treasury Department

New Subdivision Being Opened

Another subdivision in the Campbell area is being opened on the San Jose-Los Gatos highway, 600 feet south of Campbell avenue.

The tract is in an old orchard that has walnut, pear, prune and apple trees. Named "El Solyo," there are 31 lots in the subdivision, of which seven, each a quarter of an acre, have been sold.

The street has been graded and will be paved. Sidewalks are built and bonds posted to insure installation of gas and water as soon as pipe is released for them.

Parr-Fish Nuptials Sunday, June 10

Mrs. Joseph Herbert Parr has issued invitations to the wedding of her daughter, Martha Parr, to Raymond Franklin Fish.

The ceremony will be held Sunday afternoon, June tenth, in St. Patrick's church in San Jose.

Miss Parr is one of the popular proprietors of The What Not, the attractive gift shop and lending library opposite the Campbell grammar school.

Mr. Fish and sons Ray Jr. and Harry, have lived in Campbell for a number of years and have an attractive home on West Campbell avenue.

St. Lucy's Club to Have Card Party Tomorrow

St. Lucy's Women's Club will hold their regular monthly card party Friday, May 25, at the parish hall. Playing will start at 2:15.

Chairman will be Mrs. M. F. Fields, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Carvalho and Mrs. J. O. Souto. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

Death of Lt. Vick Is Confirmed

Mrs. R. J. Vick of North Union avenue has received from headquarters confirmation of the death on April 28, of her son, 2nd Lt. Ralph J. Vick who was a copilot in a courier plane.

The message stated that the plane was on a routine flight to Rome, Italy and ran into fog and dense cloud formations, and that this condition undoubtedly obscured the vision of the pilot and the plane crashed into a mountain shortly before reaching the airport.

All of the occupants were killed instantly. Ralph's body was found and identified and was buried in an American cemetery in southwestern Italy. Military services were held, and the grave is well-marked. The cemetery is very beautiful and well kept.

Ralph was well known among the young people, a graduate of Campbell high school in June, 1942.

* * *

Mrs. Vick wished to express her appreciation of the many messages of sympathy she has received and the kindly acts of friendliness extended her since word of her loss became known.

Ensign Gladys Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland C. Hughes who has been serving as a nurse at the Naval hospital in Oakland has been transferred to the Navy Yard Dispensary, Puget Sound, Washington.

A. Stewart Wellington F1/c, son of Mrs. A. W. Wellington, is at Gulf Port, Miss., for his second training course in engineering. Stewart has been delayed in his training by a six weeks siege in the hospital with scarlet fever and after effects.

In Monday's list of applicants for marriage licenses is that of Alva Turner, 38, and Ellen Wolff, 32, both of Campbell.

Air Corps Hero Will Visit Here During 7th War Loan Drive

An M-8 armored car will be among the equipment and personnel of a traveling army unit prepared especially for War Bond rallies during the Seventh War Loan Drive. The unit will be in charge of a returned Air Corps veteran, who will relate his experiences. The M-8 will be equipped with a public address system and recorded music. The unit will visit here on Thursday, May 31, and the following tentative program has been arranged.

At nine o'clock, in the baseball field at the high school, the first demonstration will be given for the benefit of the high school students, as well as the public. After this demonstration there will be two short war loan films shown in the high school auditorium. The public is cordially invited to attend. James W. Dent, high school principal and manager of the drive, will be master of ceremonies.

At 11 o'clock another rally and demonstration will be held at the Union Service station, Campbell and Central avenues, with Joseph Gomes, chamber of commerce president, in charge. Drew Canning company, Campbell Products, and all other concerns and business establishments will be asked to close in order to give their employees an opportunity to attend. We want to make this a real rally.

The local bond drive continues with the high school students working hard to reach our quota. If you have been missed, please call the high school and a student will call. Campbell has always gone over the top and we don't want to spoil our record.

Police District Hearing Set for Monday, June 11

After publication of the first notice regarding formation of a district so many others not included within the boundaries as listed wished to be included, that a petition was submitted to the supervisors to withdraw the first petition and a second one which covered a wider area was presented.

The notice of this hearing and description of the area to be included if it is eventually organized is published for the second and last time in this issue of the Press.

St. Lucy's Club Entertains Ladies Of Nearby Towns

Members of St. Lucy's Women's Club of Campbell recently were hostesses to a group of ladies from neighboring parishes including Los Gatos, Saratoga and Burbank. All of the visiting guests were given corsages of Cecile Brunner roses.

Entertainment for the afternoon was provided by Mrs. Edward Dolan, Master Michael Dolan, Mrs. B. Metcalf, the Misses Marilyn Labrovich, Marcelene Benech and Mary Lou Hoyt. Highlight of the afternoon was an interesting address by Mrs. Orvis H. Speciale, of the Santa Clara Council of Catholic Women.

Chairman for the afternoon was Mrs. J. O. Souto, assisted by Mesdames Martin Walsh, Fred Smith, G. Sonnichsen, M. Fields and Nellie Carvalho. Beautiful flower arrangements were provided by Mrs. Monica Parr.

June 7th will mark the final meeting of the group for the year, with installation of newly appointed officers. Mrs. Manuel Fields is president of the club.

Paper Drive Pick Up Schedule

The Campbell high school is announcing the dates and areas for the paper drive pickups.

The trucks will be around on all days after 3 p. m.

On Monday, May 28, in the northeast area bounded by Campbell, Harrison and Hamilton avenues and Winchester road, plus Rosemary lane.

Tuesday, May 29: southeast area—Campbell avenue, Winchester road, Kennedy and Railroad avenues, plus Apricot avenue.

Thursday, west Campbell area. Boundaries: Latimer, Carlyn, Milton, and Winchester to Budd.

Gasoline limitations will not permit collections in a wider area but anyone outside is asked to bring or send any bundles to the high school and store in the garage.

The need for collection of all possible waste paper is extremely urgent, so bundle it up and place it on the curb or front porch to aid the students in their work.

Sgt. R. Stephens Qualifies As Aerial Gunnery Teacher

Sgt. Robert Stephens, son of Fred H. Stephens, Route 2 Box 228, was graduated last week from the Army Air Forces Central Instructors school at Laredo Army Air Field, Laredo, Texas, a member of the AAF Training Command. He is now fully qualified to become an instructor at one of the nation's seven aerial gunnery schools.

He was prepared for his instructing duties by completing a comprehensive six weeks course in the most modern methods of instruction on aerial gunnery.

Anthony Joseph Catalano, Rt. 2, Box 25 and Wayne J. Shaddox, Dillon avenue were among 18 Santa Clara drivers whose driver's licenses were suspended by the State Department of Motor Vehicles because of two or more drunken driver convictions.

Mrs. C. G. Parsons who had been the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. J. Carboni, left Tuesday morning on the Daylight for her home in Beverly Hills.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Colbert, 22 Smith avenue, a daughter, Sharon May, on May 14 at O'Connor's.

MEMORIAL DAY

America stands with head bowed and bared on this day in memory of her fallen heroes.

Their silent ranks that march unseen are evidenced only by graves all over the world—graves that mark the paths our armies have trod in the fight for victory and peace.

They lie on Okinawa and Iwo Jima, Bataan and Corregidor, Bougainville and Guadalcanal; there are fields of white crosses in North Africa and Italy, on the beaches of Normandy, on the banks of the Rhine.

They were young men. They loved life. They did not want to die. But they gave their lives that their country might survive, and that other young men of another generation who will love life and will not want to die, will not have to die on the field of battle.

These are our honored dead. And yet, they are not dead. The assurance of immortality is too strong, too insistent in our hearts to believe other than that these men are still going on unscathed by the violence that struck down their mortal bodies.

To these men, and to all the valiant Americans who throughout the history of our great Nation have fought and died in freedom's name—to them we owe a debt that can never be paid.

Their memory will live on in our hearts; we can never forget them. But even more important than the personal memory—sacred though that is— is the memory of the cause for which they died. This we must not, we dare not, forget.

Out of the tears of today, out of the solemnity of this hour, comes forth the hope of a brighter tomorrow when men and nations, in the light of mutual trust and respect, will "learn war no more", but shall walk together in eternal paths of peace.

HENRY KAISER—HOME BUILDER

Henry Kaiser, shipbuilder extraordinary and man of many interests, apparently does not plan to let any postwar grass grow under his feet.

His latest enterprise—the Kaiser Community Homes Organization—will take him into the home building field where he plans mass production at prices ranging from $4,000 to $5,000.

These homes, which are to be built only on a community basis, will include automatic dishwashers, electric refigerators, stoves, and air cleansers. Mr. Kaiser is also said to be planning the inclusion of a health insurance policy with each home sold. This apparently results from the success of voluntary health insurance in his established enterprises and the widespread demand for such voluntary plans.

The houses are to have steel studding and other modern construction materials. While the floor plan will be much the same, each home will present a different architectural design from the outside.

Mr. Kaiser believes that under mass production methods the number of homes built annually in America can be doubled. Well, if Henry can do for home building what he did for shipbuilding, we shall see some interesting developments after the war.

BORNEO INVASION

Almost lost in the bushels of historic war news that has been pouring in is the significance of the Borneo invasion by General MacArthur.

It means that we should soon be collecting some "dividends"—rubber, oil, tin—on our long battle in the South Pacific. It also means that the Japs' stolen empire is due to come apart at the seams—but quickly!

During peacetime the rich East Indies and the adjacent Southeast Asia mainland supplied 90 per cent of the world's rubber, 85 per cent of the pepper, 65 per cent of the tin, and 17 per cent of the oil.

The fact that the United States consumed two-thirds or more of the world's annual rubber production makes it clear why the enemy conquest of the East Indies and the shutting off of the rubber supply from that source had such far-reaching effect on the Nation's transportation.

Until that time we had not realized the extent to which we had come to rely on rubber. Our millions of automobiles had become necessities. This was also true of our millions of trucks.

But while the East Indies were sealed off we built a billion dollar synthetic rubber industry. The question is: Will natural rubber regain its former place or will the synthetic product compete successfully?

The conquest of these fabulous islands will bring new supplies of needed materials, but it will also bring, before very long, a shift from shortages to surpluses. Then we will face the economic problems which must be solved in the interest of a lasting peace.

Now that the great battles of Europe are over, millions of American boys will be returning home or heading directly toward the Pacific for the final showdown with Japan.

Some of their buddies will be left behind temporarily to help police Germany. Others will be left behind forever—under white crosses.

To these heroic dead, as to the living, we owe an incalculable debt. Tongue and pen will eulogize them. Monuments will be built in their honor. Heads will bow and tears will flow in their memory.

But the words—written and spoken—and the tears and monuments will not pay our debt to them. It can be paid only as we individually lay aside narrow self interest and pettiness and devote our hearts and minds to the building of that better, brighter world for which they fought and died.

This better world cannot be created by diplomats and then handed to us. Nor will it fall suddenly as a gift from Heaven. Instead, it must be woven out of the fabric of our daily lives, out of increased kindness, consideration, patience and understanding. The real struggle is within each one of us.

The battle ground is not found
Where the warrior fights and dies;
But quite apart, within each heart
Is where it really lies.

HOUSE FOR RENT

"House for Rent". Such signs are almost extinct in these days.

But right in the heart of New York there IS a house for rent. Charles Schwab, the steel magnate, used to live there. The rent? Oh, it's only $6,250 per month.

Well, you can't get a 75-room house for nothing!

Clubwomen Hear Red Cross Report

Spring flowers and colorful laprobes were used to adorn the club room Monday, May 21 when the Country Woman's club met. During the business meeting members busied themselves with Red Cross work. Mrs. Jessie Shelley reported six completed robes were turned in at this meeting, making a total of 26 robes credited to the club. In answer to our government's request for many thousands more robes, the members are working harder than ever.

Mrs. Archie Keesling, local branch Red Cross chairman, reported 1250 finished articles have been sent to headquarters since January. This sewing unit will continue to work during the summer months. Any help anyone can give will be greatly appreciated. It is a nice way to spend one or two hours each week.

Mrs. David Sanders is calling for first-time blood donors. Phone Campbell 3553 to make arrangements. The next blood bank date will be June 12.

Mrs. E. F. Whistler, acting chairman of the day, was assisted by Mesdames W. R. Morgan, Thomas Cowper, M. J. Palmer, Martin Walsh and Roy Archibald.

The annual club picnic will be held June 4 at Los Gatos park. Mrs. Ralph Hyde is chairman for the event and would like members attending to be ready to leave the club house by 12:30 p. m. Also bring table service—plate, cup and silverware.

The dinner menu will be a hot dish, salad, pie, tea and coffee. Please notify the committee what dish you will bring.

The president, Mrs. C. B. Field is calling a special board of directors meeting, the last for this club year, for Monday, May 28, at 2:30 p. m. in the club room.

Mrs. Byron Hall phoned Mr. and Mrs. Addison Hall Monday that a letter she received from her husband told of his new title, Lieutenant Colonel, as of May 8, and also that he was sending her his Air Medal which he had received as a pilot flying a B-17 Flying Fortress in destruction of Nazi industries and military targets.

Add and Alice Hall, proprietors of the Tennessee Inn are announcing that on next Wednesday, May 30, Memorial day, their hours will be the same as Sundays, 1 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Denny-Watrous Offers Chamber Music Trio June 7

A rare treat is in store for music lovers when the distinguished chamber music trio —Adolph Baller, pianist; Roman Totenberg, violinist, and Gabor Rejto, cellist—play in the Montgomery theater, San Jose Civic auditorium on the evening of Thursday, June 7. Mr. Baller, whose escape from the Nazis following their attempts to permanently cripple his fingers was graphically related in a recent number of the Reader's Digest, is well known as the accompanist of Yehudi Menuhin. His piano recital in Los Gatos last week created a veritable sensation, exactly as it over and again scored triumphant successes in pre-war Europe.

Roman Totenberg, solo violinist of the New York symphony, the second of the trio, is a consummate artist. A Pole by birth, Mr. Totenberg has played as soloist with many of the European symphonies, and recently appeared under the baton of Eugene Ormandy.

Gabor Rejto, cellist of the Cordon String Quartet, is a Hungarian, rated as one of the finest cellists of the period. The three great artists will be heard in the Schubert Trio in B flat major; the Beethoven Trio in C minor, and the Dvorak "Dumkey" Trio.

T.B. Association Board Meeting

The new board of directors of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association held its first meeting of the fiscal year Thursday morning, May 10, in the office of the president, Mr. John M. O'Keeffe. Main business was the ratification of standing committees to serve during the coming fiscal year.

Dr. Scarborough spoke of the County Medical Society's endorsement of the tuberculosis association's new case-finding project, that of opening the X-ray trailer to the public for the taking of free chest X-rays, which started last March.

X-ray unit is now on its spring rounds of county schools, but will return to San Jose every Monday to be open from noon through 8 P.M. for X-raying the public. It will be stationed in its usual location in the county parking area next to the Hall of Justice.

V-Garden Pest Control Told in U. C. Leaflet

An illustrated leaflet with enlarged pictures of nearly a score of the most common garden insects and pests is available for Victory Gardeners, it was announced recently from the offices of the Agricultural Extension Service, University of California.

The leaflet describes the appearance and habits of plant pests and contains recommendations and instructions for their control. It was prepared by A. E. Michelbacher, assistant entomologist in the University Experiment Station and Frank H. Ernst, extension specialist in illustrative materials.

The leaflet, Garden Insects, Related Pests, and Method of Control, is available, without cost, at the Agricultural Extension Service offices, on the Berkeley campus, or at offices of Extension Service County Farm Advisors.

Campbell Blood Donors

Donors from Campbell at the Blood Bank Tuesday were Charlotte Rice, Ann Bonacich, Evelyn Newton, Don McQueen, Anna Pfeffer, Kurt Pannekoek, Mary Gordon, Violet Park, Sarah Corsiglia, Ruth O'Brian, R. B. Bishop, Junice Lindgren, Henry Blohm.

Mrs. Newton has the honor of being a fourteenth-time donor, as well as an active worker in the local Red Cross branch.

Jack Murdock has an eight-time record and there are others who have made the same or nearly so whose names we do not know.

However the greatest need is for new donors as the needs for Type-O whole blood as well as plasma are increasing daily.

Mrs. O. C. Kersgard received a wire this week from her son Edwin C. Kersgard that he has been promoted to captain and that he hoped to be home soon after three years overseas and nearly four in service without a visit home.

Thomas K. Farley, A. B., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Farley, was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology at the school of theology in the 72nd annual commencement of Boston University.

Seaman P. L. Stone at Okinawa Beach

Aboard a U. S. Battleship off Okinawa (Delayed)—Paul L. Stone, seaman, second class, whose mother, Mrs. Omega Stone, lives at 17 Page street, Campbell, was aboard this veteran battleship when she poured a withering torrent of high explosive shells into the Okinawa beaches as a unit of the greatest naval bombardment force in history.

With other ships in the mighty task force, she swept the western side of the island with her main and secondary batteries and 40-mm. automatic weapons. So accurate and devastating was her fire that Marines and 10th Army troops encountered only slight opposition when they landed.

The battleship reached the center of operations shortly before dawn of March 25 and her 14-inch guns were raising havoc with the vital shore installations. Their thunderous barrage demolished an important bridge-crossing, pillboxes and a small railroad freight terminal and battered antiaircraft positions with deadly regularity.

Highlight of the ship's action came during an air attack. One. of the enemy planes broke through the sheet of antiaircraft fire, singling out this battleship for a suicide run. Seconds later a cheer went up from gunners and crewmen when a hit sent the plane flaming into the sea.

Hedda Hopper: Looking at HOLLYWOOD

AFTER all his years here the town hasn't yet been able to corral and brand Walter Huston as a complete Hollywoodian.

It isn't that Walter's snooty. It's just that he prefers the outdoor life of a rugged man to the social stuffed shirt of some of our cinema gentlemen. Give him the wide open spaces and you can have your too - too swank small talk.

Walter Huston

"I don't live away from Hollywood because I don't go in for social life," Walter told me as we chatted on the set of "Ten Little Indians." "When you come right down to it, social life isn't important any more. People say it is, but all that counts is the job you do on the screen. You can be perfectly happy here without ever doing anything but go to a drive-in for a hamburger. It's just that I'm a funny kind of a guy. I have to get out where I can breathe—where I can get completely apart from pictures when I want to. But don't get me wrong—I love pictures."

When he's making one he lives at the Beverly Hills hotel, but Walter has two other homes where he goes whenever he can get away. One is his huge and ultra mountain lodge in Running Springs, in the San Bernardino mountains. The other his 8,000 acre cattle ranch at Porterville, Calif.

The Inner Man

It's in these two places that you'll uncover the real Huston, the man who is not an actor, but the man who has found that elusive something you're always hearing about and always wondering what it really is—happiness.

When you're talking to this character actor who has dignified so many important films, conversation switches from his lodge and ranch to his favorite subject—his son, John. In Walter's mind John is the best director—and writer—in Flickerville.

"Give John a story he likes, let him alone, and he'll come up with the doggonedest picture you ever saw," Walter told me. "There's nothing I'd like better than to go into the producing business with John when the war's over."

Rare Bird for Hollywood

Walter's modest. He never talks about his performances—just goes ahead, does his job the best he knows how and shuts up.

His whole life has been one of plugging away at acting. Even when he was a kid in Toronto, Canada, he knew he was going to act.

There was a matter of schooling. He was one of the worst students Canada had ever known, so it wasn't too hard to understand why he left school rather early and got a job as a clerk in a hardware store. From here he joined a dramatic outfit in Toronto, where he stayed until a traveling repertoire company came along.

Then he decided to go to New York. He arrived there frozen stiff, he had jumped a freight during a blizzard.

Richard Mansfield was auditioning players and Walter was handed a part. Mansfield personally honored him that night by throwing him out of the theater.

Electrician, Then Vaudevillist

Next he went to Detroit, tried electrical engineering, then tried vaudeville. In one of the acts on the circuit he was playing there was a girl named Bayonne Whipple. She and Walter decided to merge professionally—and maritally. For about 12 years they were headliners on and Keith circuit with their song and dance act.

This marriage like a former one blew up. He decided to go on his own with a big-time act. The Schuberts paid him $1,750 a week.

At 39 he turned to the legitimate stage. He managed to get backing and made his Broadway debut in "Mr. Pitt."

The play wasn't so hot. But Walter was. He's never played anything but star roles on Broadway since.

It was during the run of "Elmer the Great" that he met Nan Sunderland and later married her. They are till working happily at it.

He began to make pictures in 1929, and since then has alternated between Broadway and Hollywood.

I've known Walter for years. He's a square shooter. All he asks of life is a reasonable amount of security, good companionship, and the respect of his fellow men.

They'll Throw Weight Now

The Lehman brothers move into the top list of movie moguls with their recent buy of a sizable block of 20th Century-Fox. They bought the Chase bank holdings of that company a couple of years ago. This gives them control of one of the most powerful lots in the industry. They also have their hands in Paramount, RKO, and in Technicolor. . . . Twentieth Century-Fox thinks it has a second Judy Garland in a little blue-eyed redhead, Georgia Lee Settle.
